

GIVES OUT STATEMENT.

Disfranchisement to be basis of battle along the line.

Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, who is recognized as the real manager of Republican campaign in Maryland this year, today made public a statement of convention, and in many ways the current campaign is regarded by public men as a political duel between him and Senator Arthur P. Gorman for control of the State.

It has been freely predicted that if the Republicans win this year in their fight against the Poe amendment, disfranchising the illiterates, Mr. Bonaparte will in the near future be elected Senator from the State, under a Republican regime. Hence there is a special interest in a statement issued directly from him.

In response to a request for information as to the action of the Republican convention at Baltimore, of which he was chairman, Secretary Bonaparte wrote the following letter, the publication of which he has authorized as a means of disseminating information as to the actual situation in Maryland:

Race Prejudices.

"In the campaign now in progress in Maryland the Democratic 'ring' relies for success, as it has relied for success in many campaigns during the past thirty-five years, upon appeals to race prejudice. To inflame this prejudice, it has frequently circulated and it circulates now many utterly false and indeed ridiculous stories as what the Republican party would or might do, if intrusted with power by the voters. While these falsehoods are not only absurd in themselves, but conclusively refuted by experience during the four years of Republican supremacy in the State, when the late Lloyd Lowndes was governor, from 1896 to 1900, they had undoubtedly weight with a certain class of voters, of whom some are very ignorant and others so intensely prejudiced on this question as to almost beyond the influence of reason.

"Some of these preposterous tales are to the effect that a Republican Legislature would compel by law certain forms of social intercourse between the two races, as, for example, by establishing compulsory attendance at mixed public schools or obliging white children to be taught by colored teachers. Others hold out the alarming prospect that a Republican governor or mayor would appoint a vast multitude of colored officials with no regard to fitness or expediency to all sorts of public positions. Tribute to Timanus.

"Of course when we had a Republican Legislature and a Republican governor nothing of the kind was done, and the present Republican mayor of Baltimore, Mr. Timanus, has made no such selections for public office; nevertheless some people actually believe these yarns and others try to persuade themselves there may be some truth in them, so as to vote against their own reason and conscience, and, while such dupes are found, the manufacturer of such falsehoods continues.

"Stories of the first class form part of an outcry against 'social equality'; stories of the second class give such color as they may to and outcry against 'negro domination'; the resolution of the Republican convention disclaiming any desire or purpose to promote either of these chimerical evils must be understood in the light of the surrounding circumstances, as above set forth.

"In Maryland it has been so understood and has attracted little or no comment; outside the State it seems to have been widely misunderstood, by reason of widespread ignorance of the peculiar ignorance of the peculiar conditions which prevail with us.

"I ought, perhaps, to add that although I am the presiding officer of the convention, I did not appoint the committee on resolutions, was not a member of that committee, and did not suggest or advise the adoption of the resolution in question. I do not, therefore, speak for the convention, but, in speaking for myself on the subject, I feel perfectly confident that I voice the sentiments of all sincere and earnest Republicans in Maryland."

"DONT'S" FOR HUSBANDS.

From The Sentinel.
Don't forget that a woman likes love tokens as well after marriage as before marriage.
Don't be unreasonably jealous. It betrays you in the eyes of your wife.
Don't think you are the only man who works.
Don't raise your hat to your lady friends and not to your wife, when you meet her in the street.

Don't leave your wife at home when you go out to enjoy yourself.
Don't compare your wife's household management with that of your mother. Remember that the latter had far more experience.
Don't sigh over what might have been but make the best of what is.
Don't kill the love of a devoted woman by so-called innocent flirtations.
Don't forget that your wife has right to a regular allowance which she can call her own.
Don't sneer at your wife's first failures. Rather should you show an appreciation of her efforts to please you.
Don't forget that your wife has a birthday. A small present, accompanied by a kiss and a loving word, is quite as much appreciated as a costly gift.
Don't forget that your wife needs recreation at times, just as much as yourself.

Don't think that your wife can run the house on five dollars per week, while you keep quite as much for your own pocket.
Don't get out of temper if breakfast is a fraction of a minute late. An overclouded morning denotes a stormy day.
Don't interfere in household matters. That is your wife's department, and you know little or nothing about it.
Don't neglect to take an interest in your wife's dress, and above all, allow her sufficient money to dress according to your station.

DONT'S FOR WIVES.

Don't encourage gossip.
Don't neglect your personal appearance.
Don't forget to interest yourself in things which interest your husband.
Don't think yourself better than your husband's relations.
Don't tell your mother, sisters or friends of every little tiff that occurs between you and your husband.
Don't fire the day's accumulation of woes at your husband directly he returns home.
Don't keep your husband waiting for his meals.
Don't begrudge your husband an hour spent sometimes with his male friends.
Don't worry your husband with every trivial affair that occurs in his absence from home.
Don't speak of great virtues in another woman's husband to remind your own of a fault.
Don't bemoan your fate when trouble occurs. Remember that you married for worse as well as better.
Don't forget to be prompt and pleasant at breakfast. Your husband will then be prompt and pleasant at tea.
Don't dictate to your husband regarding what he should wear. Most women are bad judges of men's dress.
Don't sacrifice your husband for your children. He should always be first.
Don't be the tale bearer of neighbor's affairs. There are subjects far more everlasting and interesting which husband and wife can talk about.

What I Saw And Heard

Prof. Du Bois addressed the Christian Endeavor meeting at the 15th Street Presbyterian Church last Sunday afternoon.

The Niagara movement is growing daily. The colored man will realize some day that it is important to be manly and assert his independence. What the colored man should do is organize and unite on one common issue. Some people may say that it is well for the colored man to eschew politics. In some states perhaps it would be wise for him not to ally himself to any political party. The Democratic party of Maryland has decided to make the Poe Amendment the issue in the coming campaign. If the colored man ever voted in his life he should vote on this amendment. I don't think that the entire white Democratic vote will support the Poe amendment.

I would like to what the constitution of the United States was adopted for? If the constitution is to protect all citizens of the United States then it should be enforced.

There was a large crowd on the avenue to greet the President last Saturday evening. The decorations were profuse. I am satisfied that the President engaged the demonstration.

It is not true that the prosecution of Henry Lucey is on account of any color prejudice or any other kind of prejudice. He is charged with conduct unbecoming an officer. No man has been more lenient and just with him than the chief of police. It has come to the point now that patience has ceased to be a virtue.

I am confident that District Attorney Baker will not consider the claims of any colored applicant at present. Commissioner Macfarland will consider the advisability of making a few changes in the personnel of the Board of Education at the expiration of the term of the members. He is satisfied that the Board is not giving entire satisfaction.

WHEN CONGRESS MEETS.

It is reported that President Roosevelt will make several important political changes when congress convenes in December. Several colored appointments will be made also and several changes among politicians. The West continues its clamor for recognition. The northern colored man claims that he can vote and is entitled to office. It is no fault of the Southern colored man that he cannot vote. It is the duty of the Republican party to protect him and see that he is permitted vote. The Southern colored negro should not be ignored. He should receive the same recognition that the Northern colored man receives. THE BEE is opposed to the removal of any Southern colored Republican because he can't vote. The Southern colored man has been faithful to the party and should be protected.

PROF. BOOKER T. WASHINGTON.

Professor Booker T. Washington has become disgusted with politics and has decided to retire. This sudden change is said to be on account of the infidelity of his supposed friends. Prof. Washington, it is said, has aided several newspapers to exist and because he would not continue to share out to many of them, nothing is too bad for them to say. Prof. Washington is convinced that the more he tries to please the Southern white people the more treacherous they are towards him. It is unfortunate that he should be condemned because he is invited to dine with white people. THE BEE would suggest to Mr.

Among The Odd-Fellows

A grand reception will be tendered the executive committee of the D. G. Lodge in the banquet hall at Odd Fellows Hall, 1606 M street, N. W., at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Deputy G. D. Master, Geo. R. Watkins, who has been sojourning in Toronto, Canada for several months, will return, it is stated at an early day. The order welcome you home brother Watkins.

Rev. W. J. Howard, the popular treasurer of Rising Sun Lodge No 1365, has been absent from the city this week attending the National Baptist Convention which met in Philadelphia, Pa. last Monday.

From all indications the celebration on November the 17th next of the 25th anniversary of the institution of the Grand Lodge in the District will be one of the grandest affairs ever given by the order. The celebration is the outgrowth of a resolution offered by Past D. G. Master, W. C. Martin and adopted at last session of the D. G. L.

The entertainment given at Odd Fellows Hall Monday evening last by the members of John F. Cook Lodge No. 1185, was in every way a success. For the success of this entertainment as well as the Lodge, great credit is due Messrs. Joseph Washington, Robert White, John Keys, James Richardson, Isaiah Scott, John Parker and William Bourice. At the entertainment refreshments were served by a committee of handsome ladies of which Mrs. Robert White was chairman.

Past D. G. Director, James H. Wylie, of A. K. Manning Lodge No. 2361 is one of the most punctual and faithful members of his Lodge and of the order. He never misses a meeting of his Lodge, and attends all other meetings held for the good of the order.
Mr. John W. Lee, the well-known florist of West Washington, and member of Potomac Union Lodge, 892, has not ceased smiling pleasantly since his election to the honorable position of D. G. Treasurer. Military Order No. 1.

For the future good of the service, it has been found necessary to reorganize the "Black Horse Cavalry" as follows:

Captain, J. H. Coleman, promoted to the rank of Colonel of the regiment; Vice-Colonel White, deserted; Lieut. R. F. Williams, promoted to the rank of Captain; Vice-Captain Brown, deserted; Lieut. George R. Rhone, promoted to rank of Major; Vice-Major Walker, deserted; Sergeant G. W. Thomas, promoted to the rank of First Lieut.; Vice-Lieut. Carter, absent in the hospital suffering from "general debility," the sequence of periodical vacillations.

APPOINTMENTS.

W. J. Howard, D. D., Chaplain, D' J. D. Blair, Regimental Surgeon, John W. Lee, Paymaster with rank of Major, W. H. Jackson, Commissary Sergeant. The efficiency of the officers who have been appointed to fill vacancies caused by desertions, it is stated, cannot be questioned as all of them are post-graduates of first-class schools.

Colonel Coleman, Captain Williams, Major Rhone and Lieut. Thomas are post-graduates of Livingston College, and for two years past have been students at "West" Point. They are also post-graduates of the now famous Martin's Business Institute and University of Justice, Law, Equity and Modern Progress.

TANNER IN COMMAND.

IS ELEVATED TO HIGHEST OFFICE IN THE G. A. R.

Sketch of His Career as a Soldier and Politician—Lost Both Legs in Second Battle of Bull Run.

Washington.—"Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic" is now the title of that intrepid soldier so long and widely known as "Corporal" Tanner. The selection is a popular one in this city, and will doubtless prove to be the same throughout the country.

The new commander-in-chief is one of the youngest soldiers who have ever been elected to the office. He was but 18 years old when the loss of both his legs at the disastrous battle of Second Bull Run took him out of the civil war. But his keen interest in those who were his associates in that war has never lagged during the 43 years that have elapsed since he ceased soldiering from necessity, and now after almost 40 years of continuous membership in the Grand Army he has risen to the command of a body of survivors who yet form a grand army of nearly a quarter of a million.

James Tanner was born in Schoharie county, N. Y., in 1844, and that state and the District of Columbia have been his places of residence throughout his life.

His political career has been long and interesting. At the close of the year he became a clerk in the war department, and then went to Albany to serve as a clerk in the New York legislature, where he continued several years. While there he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1869, when 25 years of age. After practicing for a few years he resumed the political life for which he was exceptionally qualified by his army record, his terrible crippling at Second Manassas, and his oratorical powers, which,

"CORPORAL" TANNER.
(New Commander-in-Chief of Grand Army of the Republic.)

rare from the first, have ripened with years and great experience, until he is considered one of the best speakers of the country. Before his admission to the bar he had done considerable stumping and has taken part in every campaign since 1866, in each national canvass visiting many states of the union.

His rewards have been numerous and his services have always been of a high character. He became a clerk in the United States custom house in the administration of Gen. Grant, and after several years' service rose to be deputy collector of customs under Collector Chester A. Arthur, who subsequently became president of the United States.

In 1877, at the age of 33, the maligned young veteran became collector of the city of Brooklyn, and served four two-year terms. His administrations ended in 1885. For a few years subsequently he lectured, practiced law and spoke in campaigns. His work in the famous national canvass of 1888, which resulted in the election of Harrison and Morton, was conspicuously successful, and one of the earliest appointments made by Gen. Harrison after his inauguration was that of James Tanner to succeed that other war-shattered veteran, Gen. John C. Black, as commissioner of pensions. It is something of a coincidence that he should also so closely succeed Gen. Black as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army.

As commissioner of pensions Corporal Tanner, with his accustomed enthusiasm, went about the business of seeing that all his old comrades were pensioned. His course, however, did not wholly meet with the approval of President Harrison, and in October, 1889, he was succeeded by Gen. Green B. Raum. He then settled in Washington in the practice of law, making pensions a particular feature of his business, and won some notable successes. To his efforts before congress has been given the credit for the passage, first, of the bill raising the pensions of soldiers who lost both legs in battle to $100 per month, and subsequently of one pensioning totally blinded veterans at the same rate.

Corporal Tanner is serving as registrar of wills of the district by President Roosevelt's appointment, and has made an efficient officer.

The new commander-in-chief's war service was in the Eighty-seventh New York volunteers. In the Grand Army he has been department commander of New York, 1875-76, twice judge advocate, and five years a member of the national pension committee. He has also been national commander of the Union Veteran Legion.

Boston's Name for Tips.

Don't say "tips" hereafter, remarks the Boston Transcript. Say "joyful checks." It has a pleasant sound to the ear, while to the conscience and to the instinct of courtesy it is far more gracious. There is no hint of "graft" in the gentle phrase and by no means could it be perverted to read "extortion." There is a blessed atmosphere of value and take, an appreciation of value received about it, whether it is written or spoken.

ASTOR BUYS A CASTLE.

Former Home of Ill-Fated Queen Anne Boleyn Being Modernized by American Millionaire.

London.—Hever castle, in the county of Kent, which Mr. William Waldorf Astor bought for an English home, has proved too historic for comfort. It was the home of Queen Anne Boleyn, and was built in the reign of Henry VI. It has a portcullis and a moat, and is decidedly medieval. Mr. Astor has had a large bungalow mansion erected quite close to the castle. Eight hundred men have been employed on the contract; and he intends to have this most up-to-date country house equipped with the latest scientific appliances for promoting happiness. Archaeologists are aghast at the vandalism in interfering with the quiet that broods over Hever castle, but Mr. Astor, while he considers the castle an interesting example of the Tudor period, does not regard it as an ideal residence. However, the American millionaire is preserving the structure in its original state, and all visitors are welcome.

The manor of Hever which has come into Mr. Astor's possession belonged to the Hevers or Hevres at the time of the Norman conquest, and was purchased in Henry VI's reign by Sir Geoffrey Poleyn. Years afterward Anne Boleyn, his great-granddaughter, met Henry VIII. in the castle and became his queen. On her death the manor was given by that monarch to Anne of Cleves. There are countless legends handed down about the old pile, and a book could be written of tales that are told of the days when bluff King Hal came a-courting the knight's daughter. To the visitor of imaginative disposition Hever castle strongly appeals. It is in the form of a great quadrangle surrounded by a double moat and surmounted by high-pitched roofs and gables. Entrance is had by a strongly porticuled gateway. Kent is the garden of England, and the manor of Hever is one of the most charming tracts of land in the county.

LINCOLN'S MOTHER'S GRAVE

Resting Place of Nancy Hanks Near Lincoln City, Ind., in Sad State of Neglect.

Boonville, Ind.—A matter occasioning much comment among the people of southern Indiana and the press of the state is the neglect by the state officials of the monument of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, mother of Abraham Lincoln. The monument is located in Lincoln park, near Lincoln City, Spencer county, a few miles east of here.

The grave of this historical woman is barren of adornment. There is,

TOMB OF NANCY HANKS LINCOLN.
(Grave of Historical Woman in Need of Care.)

however, a broken jar, a glass dish and a clam shell. Last Memorial day some interested person placed a penny flag beside the grave, and some memory-loving, kind-hearted person contributed a lily. The fence surrounding the grave is weather-worn and rusty, and the ground is barren of grass.

The monument, which the state purchased, and which is shown in the foreground, is perched upon a knoll of hard-packed yellow clay. No sod, grass, flowers or vegetation of any kind beautifies the ground near the base of the monument, but is neglected the year round. It stands just as it did when the workmen swung it into its proper position, and no improvements or alterations have been made since.

New Star Discovered.

A new star has been discovered by Mrs. W. P. Fleming, of the Harvard Observatory, in the constellation of Aquila, which at eight p. m. just now is about on the meridian and halfway from the southern horizon to the zenith. The star was not seen on August 10, was as large as 6.3 magnitude on August 13, or just on the verge of visibility to naked eye vision; was 7.5 magnitude on August 21, and on August 26 was of the tenth magnitude, showing a rapid diminution of its light.

Hair Statistics.

An eminent man of science has recently declared that red-haired people are far less apt to grow bald than those with other colored hair. The average crop on the head of a red-haired person is only 20,200 hairs. Ordinary dark hair is far finer, and over three dark hairs take up the space of one red one; 105,000 are about the average. But fair-haired people are still better off; 140,000 to 160,000 are quite a common number of hairs on the scalp of a fair-haired man or woman.

A PHILIPPINE SEAL.

OFFICIAL COAT-OF-ARMS FOR THE ISLANDS.

Ordered by Insular Government to Replace Old Spanish Device—Many New Seals Made Necessary Recently.

Washington.—Several years ago French E. Chadwick discovered that the great seal of the United States had been heretically faulty for 100 years, and forthwith the design was corrected by experts and a new die was cut for the state department. This led to a study of the devices used by the other federal departments, and new designs were soon made for the army and navy, and for the customs service of the treasury. Even the flag of the president had to be altered. The experts who were consulted in these cases about the same time devised a new coat-of-arms for Porto Rico and a new seal, which gave some indication that the island had passed from Spanish sovereignty to that of the United States. In the last few months, however, Porto Rico has abandoned its new seal and coat-of-arms, and returned to its former device, on which the name of the island is spelled "Puerto Rico," and this is now affixed to all official documents to legalize and authenticate them, notwithstanding the fact that in all such documents the name of the island is spelled "Porto Rico," in conformity with the laws of the United States.

Almost simultaneously with this action by Porto Rico, the insular government of the Philippines was getting rid of its old Spanish seal and substituting a new device.

On July 3, 1905, the Philippine government enacted a statute establishing a great seal, to be placed on all commissions, official documents and papers, and describing it as follows:

"Section 1. There is hereby prescribed and adopted the arms and great seal of the government of the Philippine Islands, of the design hereinafter described: Arms: Paleways of 13 pieces, argent and gules; a chief azure; over all the arms of Manila, per fess gules and azure, in chief the castle of Spain, or, doors and windows azure, in base a sea-lion, argent langued and armed gules, in dexter paw a sword blunted or. Crest: The American eagle displayed proper. Beneath, a scroll with the words 'Philippine Islands' inscribed thereon.

"Sec. 2. The great seal shall be circular in form, with the arms as described in section 1, but without the scroll and the inscription thereon, and surrounding the whole a double marginal circle within which shall appear the words: 'Government of the Philippine Islands,' 'United States of America,' the two phrases being divided by two small five-pointed stars."

The seal was cut by Tiffany & Co., in New York, and went into use in the Philippines on the 4th of July.

Stuffing Cattle for Market.

Everyone knows that the east cannot compete with the west in beef production. But not every one knows of a new scheme for raising beef that is profitable in the east, or wherever land and feed are high. This new plan might be called "forced feeding," since the animal is marketed at 12 or 14 months, instead of four or five years as was done a generation ago. There is an intimate relation between the length of the feeding period and the gains in weight. Animals in the wild state eat enough to keep themselves and maintain a vigorous bonny condition. They may take on extra fat when food is plentiful to tide themselves over the season of scarcity. Man has interfered with natural processes for the purpose of securing greater production. One of the chief objects kept in mind in animal breeding is to secure breeds which can consume the largest possible quantities of feed and make good and profitable use of it.

The Vanishing Home.

People who know what a home is are not so many as middle-aged men and women think, and they who never had one will hardly be expected to join in the lament at its gradual disappearance. That it is going out of fashion there is not a doubt. Every new pile of flats, every conversion of a dwelling to a boarding house is a blow to the circumstance. The modern family shifts from one tenement to another loses or damages its goods in the transit, is constantly making new acquaintances, but as constantly losing the old, and is without quiet and retirement and peace. The older people regret the change; the younger have no standards by which to measure it.

PLACED ON RETIRED LIST.

Rear Admiral Clark of Spanish-American War Fame Reaches the Age Limit.

Washington.—Rear Admiral Charles Edgar Clark, who has just retired from active duty because he has reached the age limit when naval officers are supposed to be no longer in their sphere of usefulness, is a member of the popular triumvirate of the Spanish-American conflict—Dewey, Schley and Clark.

Six years after Dewey had begun his cadetship at Annapolis Clark, who is the son of a bookbinder, followed him. He entered the naval academy the year in which Schley was graduated. The career of the three men ever since has been intertwined.

It was as a captain on the Monterey, a coast defense vessel in the

REAR ADMIRAL CLARK.
(Naval Officer Who Was Retired on His Sixty-second Birthday.)

Pacific, that Clark first became famous. In 1898, when the captain of the splendid fighting machine, Oregon—the first great modern ship to round Cape Horn—was relieved, owing to poor health, Clark took command. Almost as soon as he had done so, the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor and there were rumors of war. Clark was ordered to take his ship to the Atlantic and straightway began his 13,000-mile voyage. The navy department, knowing that Admiral Cervera's fleet had sailed, feared for his safety. The burning question was: Would Clark succeed?

But on the night of May 24, 1898, a strange ship, showing no lights, loomed up off Jupiter inlet, Jupiter, Fla. The townspeople were panic-stricken, not expecting to see the Oregon. But it was she. An ensign landed with messages for the secretary of the navy, advising that the voyage begun March 19 had been successful and that Capt. Clark and his 480 officers and men were in condition for immediate active operations.

In July, the Oregon's time came. She proceeded to Santiago to join the fleet in the blockade. It was on July 3 that the "bottled-up" Cervera made his daring dash from the harbor. In that great battle, which is history, the Oregon played well her part and showed her capabilities. She chased the escaping Cristobal Colon with the Brooklyn, which floated Schley's pennant, and kept company with the flagship, firing the famous "railroad trains," and being in at the finish when the last of the Spanish ships struck her colors.

Clark, who retired on his sixty-second birthday, was promoted to the grade of rear admiral in 1902 and later became a member of the general board of the navy. He is now president of the naval examining and retiring board on duty at Washington. He has seen 45 years of honorable and distinguished service. Clark of the Oregon will be no small figure in the history of the country's naval defenders.

BONI WOULD BE PRESIDENT

Husband of Anna Gould Has Ambitions as Successor to President Loubet of France.

Paris.—The question of who is to succeed President Loubet of France, who has now nearly reached the end of his term, already begins to occupy the mind of the French people.

The candidates for presidential honors are many, from Count Boni de

COUNT BONI DE CASTELLANE.
(Anna Gould's Husband Who Wants to Be President of France.)

Castellane, who has been entirely cured of his royalist tendencies as far as accepting the presidency is concerned, but who, of course, does not have the ghost of a chance, even if the Goulds were to help him with their millions, to the socialist Emile Jaures, who very many think would make an ideal president, but who will be strongly opposed by the army, because of his anti-militaristic views.

WILL VISIT STATES.

LORD ROBERTS, OF ENGLAND, COMING TO AMERICA.

Popular British Warrior May Be Guest of President Roosevelt After Inspecting Canadian Military Posts.

London.—Gen. Frederick Sleigh Roberts, earl of Kandahar, will sail shortly for America, where he will make a tour of inspection of his majesty's fortifications and military establishments in Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver.

It is Earl Roberts' intention, when he finishes his tour of duty in the British possessions, to visit the principal cities of the United States, including Washington, where, it is believed, he will be the guest of President Roosevelt.

The general will be accompanied to America only by a small military staff. Lord Roberts is a soldier of many titles, but he is known best by his rank and file name of "Bobs," given him lovingly by his military following because of his fighting qualities and his solicitude for the comfort of the soldier in the field.

American army officers probably will greet Lord Roberts with enthusiasm. He has said many kindly and appreciative things of the American forces, and recently he declared at a banquet given in London that West Point was the greatest military school in the world.

Lord Roberts probably has more medals than any other man in the world, soldier or civilian. He doesn't wear them all. He can't, for there is not room for them on his uniform coat.

One decoration, however, he never parts with. It is the bit of bronze known as the Victoria Cross, which is given only for conspicuous personal gallantry under the fire of the enemy. Only one other general of the first rank in England, Sir George White, has won the coveted cross.

"Bobs" is the son of a soldier and of a soldier's daughter, and he has been soldiering since boyhood. He served through the siege of Delhi and was wounded at its capture. He was with the column which relieved Lucknow, and fought in nearly every important battle of the Indian mutiny.

In the year 1880 Lord Roberts led the English forces in that memorable march from Kabul to the relief of Kandahar. When an earldom was created for Lord Roberts, his march to Kandahar and the fierce battle on his arrival were remembered, and he became Earl Roberts of Kandahar.

Americans who meet Lord Roberts will find that, like nearly all really great fighters, he is modest to the point of shyness. He has been represented at times as a severe critic and a jealous rival of Lord Wolseley, and as a condemner of the methods and work of Gen. Buller and other officers. As a matter of fact Lord Roberts never has criticized any act of his fellow officers. He has held opinions, but has kept them to himself.

Nevertheless it was Gen. Buller's failures in the operations against the Boers that brought Gen. Roberts actively before the present generation as a soldier. He was sent to South Africa as commander in chief of all British forces, and with Lord Kitchener as his chief of staff quickly and successfully ended the war which previously had entailed one disaster after another on England's troops.

Lord Roberts physically will not fill the American ideal of a soldier. He is a small man, but with his erect carriage he makes the most of his inches, and he has a natural dignity which is impressive of force. England looks upon Lord Roberts as the greatest of its generals since the days of Wellington.

Lord Roberts has been likened time and again to the American soldier, Grant. Their personality is such the same—silence and force predominating. General Grant is considered by Gen. Roberts to have been one of the great masters of war.

In England there has been a tendency to rank Lee as a soldier above Grant. Lord Roberts is credited with saying: "They were both great soldiers and deserving of the highest praise, but Gen. Grant had the genius required for saving the union and he ought not to be placed second to any modern commander."

When Gen. Roberts arrives in the United States the secretary of war will detail an army officer to accompany him in his tour of the country as honorary aid.

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I.

Delightful Trip to Quaint Bit of Land to Lovers of the Picturesque.

New York.—Many there are who love the sea and even worship its vagaries, who fish and are content if only memories of nibbles and bites remain when the day is done, who love to sail and are not weaned from this pastime even when the wind fails to serve or they are forced to drift with the tide for hours.

A multitude exist who are happiest when they look upon the salt water and feel its soft and cheering influence come to them when zephyr or gale blows across its surface, yet do not enjoy or cannot stand even a day upon the calmest sea.

To all these classes that quaint bit of land lying out of sight of shore, called Block Island, appeals most strongly, its shores most varied in character, running from its ideal beaches to its high and deeply furrowed cliffs surmounted by a lighthouse, its interior rolling and made most picturesque by bowlder-fields rising and dipping with the rounded hills.

Many are the evidences of the olden times, big roomy houses constructed largely of stone, wide deep chimneys heralding hospitality and cheer, old knockers, colonial doorways and comfortable quarters for the live stock and poultry. Gardens fenced in by old fish nets which fall in graceful curves between the posts.

For modern comfort and luxury a large choice of hotels and summer houses. Of difficult access in the past, Block Island now is within 4½ hours of New York, the new service inaugurated by President Ralph Peters, of the Long Island railroad, gives a fast run by a limited express from one end of Long Island to the other, passing through the beautiful Hamptons, over the famous Shinnecock hills, and with a panorama of never ending interest reaching Montauk 116 miles east, there to take a fast comfortable steamer for an hour's run across to Block Island sound, the land that means all the health and pleasure of an ocean voyage with its discomforts and unpleasant features omitted.

IRON TIRES FOR AUTOS.

New Wheel Invented Which, It Is Claimed, Will Do Away with Pneumatic Tires.

New York.—A new iron wheel and tire for automobiles has been invented which, it is claimed, will in time entirely supplant the pneumatic tires now in use. A test run was recently made from New York to Stamford, Conn., a distance of 40 miles, on an automobile fitted with the wheels, and the four passengers, had they not been aware of the conditions, might have believed themselves to be rolling along on the best acting pneumatic tires. John Chamber Rutherford, a mining engineer of Mexico, is the inventor of the new wheels.

The wheel is somewhat cumbersome in appearance, though by no means un-

slightly. The principle of the pneumatic tube is there, though removed from the dangers of contact with the ground. The diameter of the wheels is 30 inches, and midway between the hub and outer rim are two interior rims, between which rests a three-inch pneumatic tube.

The upper rim is suspended from the hub by iron spokes and the lower has similar connection with the inner rim. The construction is of steel and bronze and a three-point suspension gives strength and rigidity, while shocks or jolts are absorbed by the pneumatic tube.

The weight of the wheels is nearly 100 pounds each, though this, it is expected, will be reduced to about 50 pounds each. The claim is made that not only are these wheels stronger and more durable than pneumatic tires, but that they add speed to the car.

REMOVE HUGHES

Some time ago Mr. Hughes, the supervising principal of high schools submitted to the Board of Education, an objectionable report, which was eliminated from the records. The people at that time declared that his report was of such a character that it was an insult to the colored people. Just why the Board of Education should at this time take up the recommendation of Hughes again, the people don't understand. Our Washington colored schools are only criticised at all times by outsiders or those people who have no earthly interest in the schools. THE BEE pointed out a few weeks ago where the trouble was in our high school. Why doesn't the Board of Education remove the obstruction in the high school? Then there would be no hindrance to Mrs. Cooper teaching. There are teachers in the high school who have been a menace to good government. Why not remove them? No principal can succeed if their obstructionists are retained. Prof. Evans was bothered with the same obstruction, but he removed it at once and since that time the Manual Training School has been running nicely ever since. There are over eighty-seven thousand people in this city and two-thirds of them pay taxes. They are entitled to some consideration. Our school teachers will compare as favorably with those in the white schools and to some extent, they are better. Let Hughes be removed.

THE POLICE COURT JUDGE.

It is the sincere hope of the people of this city that President Roosevelt will not appoint a tyrant on the bench of the Police Court. The class of people who suffer most are the colored people, who are arrested and charged with petty offenses. In many instances the cases should never have been brought in court and when they are, there should be a man on the bench with a heart, a soul and consideration. As a matter of right, the population of the colored people entitles them to a judge. But, they don't ask for that recognition at present, but they would like to have a man appointed as the successor of Judge Scott who has a conscience and a soul. And above everything else, a man who has some sense and can be reasoned with. A common sense man is wanted. Who is that man? Justice Lewis I. O'Neal comes nearer meeting all of the requirements of a police judge than all the candidates in the field. The Bee believes that President Roosevelt desires to satisfy the people. He can do so by appointing a man who has the interest of the people at heart. Some people are talking about dark horses. It is hoped that the President will not burden us with a dark horse. Dark horses very seldom give satisfaction. Alexander Mullooney has been appointed.

DEMOCRACY OF SPORT.

It is strange but nevertheless true that in sporting life there is but little prejudice. There is a difference between northern and southern sports. The manager of the National Baseball team is a broad-minded man. He has decided to play the Cuban Giants in this city next week. There were two white men in the Nationals who didn't care to play against the negro team. But after Mr. Stallo had reasoned with these two southern men, one consented to play and the other refused. The one who refused was taken sick and he continues to be sick. However, Mr. Stallo said what objection can there be to play with the colored team. If this team can beat us, let us take the defeat for our share. The manager so shamed the players that only one out of the entire club refused to play. It is hoped that the citizens will turn out next week and witness the game between the Nationals and the Cuban Giants.

HOME RULE.

The Bee is of the opinion that the citizens of Washington should have home rule. It is strange that so many interlopers can come here and monopolize all of the best positions in the gift of the local government to the exclusion of citizens who pay taxes to support the government. A few days ago a man was appointed in our High School. It may be because there was none competent enough in this city to fill the position. There are positions held that can be filled by our normal school graduates without going on the outside. This city is a dumping ground for broken down politicians and political tricksters who are not recognized at their own home. The people of Washington have been imposed upon long enough and it should be stopped. Let us have home rule.

THE DEMOCRACY OF MARYLAND.

The Democratic party of Maryland has decided to make the Poe amendment an issue of the fall campaign. Now it is the duty of the colored Republicans to vote against this amendment, which they will no doubt do and educate the masses to do likewise. This is not the time for the colored Republicans to remain at home. Every colored Republican who has a vote and can vote should come out and vote. It is not believed that the honest people of Maryland will vote for this outrage. Senator Gorman has declared that he will not be a candidate for the Senate if this amendment is carried. If it is not, he will stand for re-election. The Bee believes that Mr. Gorman will stand for re-election.

THE NEGRO MUST WORK.

There is an attempt in the Board of Children's Guardians to have Congress rescind that clause of the act establishing the Board of Children's Guardians that reads that all children when turned over to the Board should be given an education except colored children. Now, whoever was fool enough to introduce such a clause had better resign from the Board. The person who doesn't want to educate the colored children is laboring under hallucinations. The colored people in this city will not tolerate any such revision. If white children are to be educated, colored children must be educated also. There should not be one law for whites and another for the colored people. Let the colored ministers in the churches tell their congregations that there is an attempt to make slaves of their children. Let the colored people act at once. What next?

BEE ITEMS ON THE WING.

Last week the members of the Adoptive Rite, namely—The Order of Eastern Star and Heriones of Jerico, gave a farewell reception to Ill. Brother R. H. Glearis, 33 degree, 96 degree, P. G. M. He was presented with a fine ring with emblems—his wife with a fine pin. There were a large number present. One thing we can say, we are sorry but truth is the light. If our people would work more in harmony we would get along a great deal better. For the occasion to move among some of our folks and the opposite race. We found in each case, the whites would give you work, but you—or our race—would apply the knife. Here we have about 94,000 colored people in the District; we won't support them in business; take colored newspapers and the most important thing going, we won't support them; take our secret orders, same old thing, each fighting the other. The time has arrived that these things must be cut out. Relative to politics, the best for the negro to do now is to support the party that will do him the most good. The largest church in the world is St. Peter's at Rome. Any inhabitant in the United Kingdom is liable to be called to act as hangman. The salary is $5.00 per week as a retaining fee and $10.00 after an execution. Rain in the Face, Indian chief who killed General Custer, U. S. A., is dead. He died recently.

Tuesday we ran across an old friend, Dr. and Ill. A. W. Taniel, 33. Dr. has been sick but is much improved. Dr. was at one time a very active Craftsman.

During the fiscal year, ending June 30, 52,333 applicants for patents were filed, 30,236 patents were granted.

Our white brethren are building a fine temple from the description of the proposed building, it will be fine. The middle chamber with the stairs, etc. It will cost about $350,000.

It is said that Admiral Evans, U. S. N., will give up the command of the North Atlantic Fleet and go on sick leave.

Read THE BEE.

The great friend of the negro of the 20th century lies in the black press. There are in this city, a lot of people who scorn negro papers, that is because they are ignorant and know no better. Uncle Sam has a machine that counts a million pennies a day. It is used in the Philadelphia mint.

About the end of 1907 Hamburg, Germany, will have the largest dry dock in the world. It will have a lifting power of 35,000 tons.

Prof. Pohn T. Layton, president M. W. G. Master of Masons for the D. C., is one of the representative colored citizens and prominent member of the G. A. R.

There is a great howl and kick about our brethren of the black-republic, but we find that brethren of the white-republic (Cuba) are having a lot of trouble as they are now considering sending a commission to Washington to seek the re-establishment of American intervention.

Up to August, 1905, the total number of pensioners on the rolls was: 997,211; loss by death, 3,413; by remarriage, 56; by legal limitations of minors, 116; failure to claim, 87; otherwise, 42.

Wall Street was very much astounded when Henry Leonard, a broker's clerk stole $350,000 worth of securities from the National Bank by means of a forged check.

The sad death of Mr. Wm. Ranson, formerly of Baltimore, which occurred several weeks ago, was a great shock to many of his friends.

Miss Helen Washington, who left for Detroit, Mich. some time ago, has returned to the city after spending a delightful trip.

Mrs. Mary Middleton, of 338 C street, S. W., who has been ill at her home several weeks, has improved.

Miss H. E. Byrd returned to the city last Friday evening after having spent some time in Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Betsey German, widow of Addison German and mother of Miss Sallie German and Mrs. Juretha Green, died at her residence, 416 Second street, S. W., Tuesday morning last. Her remains were taken to Manassas, Va. and interred in the family cemetery. As the deceased had suffered for ten years from paralysis of the right side, her death was not wholly unanticipated by her family and friends.

A meeting of the principals and teachers of the public night schools, which open next Monday evening, was held Monday afternoon at the Franklin school. The occasion marked the first formal meeting of B. W. Murch, the new director, and the teachers of the various schools.

The director outlined briefly the work for the coming year and announced the following appointments and assignments:

White schools, Night Business High, First street, between B and C—E. M. Wilson, principal; A. W. Miller, arithmetic; A. L. Howard, bookkeeping; L. W. Mattern, English; H. W. Draper, English; Miss M. P. Flannery, shorthand; Miss B. Forrer, typewriting, and Miss Baldwin, substitute.

Franklin, Thirteenth and K streets—C. K. Finckel, principal; Miss M. A. McMahon, eighth grade; Miss K. E. Rawlings, seventh grade; Miss E. R. Vose, sixth grade; Miss M. S. Howell, fifth grade and below; Miss L. M. Dremman, typewriting, and Miss O. E. Ulrickson and Miss M. Stockard, foreign class.

Jefferson, Sixth street and Virginia avenue, southwest—C. N. Thompson, principal; E. E. Stacey, eighth grade; Mrs. L. S. Welsh, seventh grade; Miss H. A. Brecht, sixth grade; Miss M. M.

Donovan, fifth grade; Raymond W. Pullman, typewriting; E. J. Dakin, manual training, and Mrs. M. A. Burns, cooking.

Wallach, Pennsylvania avenue and Seventh street, southeast—Miss E. C. Westcott, principal; H. H. Burroughs, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. Mulford, fifth and sixth grades, and Miss Bentley, fourth grade and below.

Corcoran, Georgetown—C. A. Johnson, principal; Miss Craighill, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and Miss Glenn, fifth grade and below.

Gales, First and G streets, northwest—Charles Hart, principal; Miss M. E. Compton, eighth grade; Miss M. R. O'Brien, seventh grade; Miss B. L. Punzize, sixth grade; Miss J. E. Hodgkins, fifth grade and below, and Miss E. M. Helms, typewriting.

The announcement of the assignments for the two colored schools was made at Monday's meeting. The principals of all the white schools were at their respective buildings to issue tickets of admission Friday, and will continue this evening from 6 o'clock. The principals of the colored schools will be at their buildings on Thursday and Friday evenings at the same hour. The colored schools will be held at the following buildings: The Stevens, Twenty-first street, between K and L streets northwest, Miss A. B. Thompson, Principal; the Randall, First and I streets southwest, Miss L. I. Russell, Principal; the Garnett, Tenth and U streets northwest, J. E. Walker, Principal, and the Armstrong Manual Training School, P street between First and Third streets, northwest, A. J. Craig, Principal.

As has been the case in previous years, the regular session of the schools will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of each week. There will be classes for whites in cooking at the Jefferson school on Wednesday and Friday nights and at 212 H street northwest on Monday and Wednesday evenings. The work in manual training will be taught at the Jefferson school by E. J. Dakin.

The manual training feature is strongly emphasized. Cooking and sewing being taught in each type of the schools. At the Armstrong School and at the Randall School, manual training, consisting of bench work in wood, is also given. A limited number of men will be received at the Armstrong Manual Training School in the department of steam engineering.

A general teachers' meeting will be held at Armstrong School Saturday morning, October 7, 1905, at 10 o'clock, when instructions as to the organization of schools will be given by Mr. B. W. Murch, the director, and his assistant.

PHONE ROUND EARTH

IOWA ELECTRICIANS INVENT NEW WIRE SYSTEM.

Sioux City Men Claim to Have Originated Device Which Will Make All the People Each Other's Neighbors.

Sioux City, Ia.—Two Sioux City electricians, M. L. Garrett and E. W. Preston, claim to have found a way to talk around the world.

By the use of an invention just patented by them it will apparently be as easy for Americans to converse with their neighbors in Europe as it has been to talk ten blocks across the city.

Only arid the world with wire, these men declare, and they will make it possible for the Swiss maiden in her Alpine home to first in the morning with young men on Florida plantations. Only bisect the two American continents with copper wire, they declare, and it will be mere child's play for the Iowan to order cattle from Patagonia over the telephone.

And it is true that the instrument is quite simple. Loosely speaking, it might be said that it consists of a telephone receiver put to the mouth of a telephone transmitter. In other words, that it brings the ear-piece of the ordinary telephone up to a mouthpiece that the earpiece may talk into the mouthpiece and sent on the sound.

Garrett and Preston solved the problem by putting together what are really two separate telephones. The central piece is a Eureka transmitter, such as is used by many telephones to-day. This is simply the diaphragm, or disk, seen in any mouthpiece, the vibrations of which are sent over the wire.

Back of this disk are placed two electro-magnets. These electro-magnets are similar to those used in telephone receivers, so, roughly speaking, it might be said that two receivers are put against this disk. The sound from one direction comes over one of these electro-magnets, or receivers, is communicated directly to the disk, which vibrates just as the disk in the original instrument, and the sound is sent on just as it came from the original instrument, 200 miles away. Sound from the other direction passes over the other electro-magnet and to the disk, and goes on its way in the opposite direction, and thus people at opposite ends of the wire can converse with one another.

Heretofore only one receiver magnet has been used in devices of this kind and this is why it has never before been possible to talk but one way. The manner in which the two currents are kept separate is not explained by the inventors, who are not making public some of the details of their instrument.

FIND A GOLD MINE.

WORKMEN UNEARTH NUGGETS ON THEATER SITE.

Deadwood, S. D., Is Scene of Wildest Excitement When Proximity of Yellow Metal Is Discovered—In a Rich Country.

Deadwood, S. D.—A foundation of gold that is the underpinning that will uphold the new Deadwood theater, built in a town famed like Deadwood, in a country known for the richest gold mine in the world, it is but fitting that even the dust of the streets should give up values to the casual passer-by, but this lot, 55 by 150 feet in the center of the city, is proving one of the richest bits of placer that has been encountered in this gulch for the last 25 years.

It was only a few days ago that excavating began for the foundation of the new theater, which is to be erected at once. It was necessary to go to bedrock to obtain a good foundation, and bedrock was from 16 to 18 feet below the surface of the lot. A force of men with shovels, teams and wagons went to work early one morning and what was their surprise upon finding, after the first few shovels of earth had been thrown off, indications of a rich placer deposit.

The gleam of the golden metal caught their eyes at once, and news spread like wildfire, and it was not long until each man had a pan and was washing for gold. No one was disappointed. Every panful of dirt showed colors and even a few nuggets were found. The trenches grew deeper day by day and the gold has not yet failed them. The management has taken hold of this claim in earnest and will sluice all the dirt thrown up in excavating. Conservative estimates show that the lot will yield at least sufficient gold to pay the cost of the expensive foundation.

In the early days, when the placer claims were new in this gulch, this present theater site was part of one of the richest claims in Deadwood. The placer district extended from this very district, the confluence of White-wood and Deadwood creeks, two miles up the gulch to Gayville.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars were taken out of these claims. Many a man made his homestead here and sacks of dust and nuggets went east daily. The gold found in this recent excavation is undoubtedly an old channel that was accidentally left untouched at the time of the great discoveries.

It is directly across the street from the Franklin hotel and is of interest not only to local people, but also to the never-ceasing crowd of tourists which throngs the verandas of the hotel and watches with delight the taking out of real gold from the ground. The new theater will be one of the finest in the west. It will back the best companies available, but, while it may have rivals in architecture and in actors, it will admit of no competition as to the value of its foundation or the novelty of the ground upon which it stands.

CAT ADOPTS QUEER BABIES

Not Satisfied with Her Own Trio of Coon Kittens She Mothered Gray Squirrels.

West Windsor, Me.—Even the Maine felines are becoming imbued with the idea of raising Rooseveltian families. A handsome brown cat, owned by Norris Smart, of this place, was evidently not entirely satisfied with her fat, cunning little trio of coon kittens, for only a few days ago the mother cat went out working in the interests of her family. In a short time she returned with a mouse colored bunch of fur in her mouth, and carefully placed it in the box with the kittens. The owner of the coon cat supposed it to be only a mouse added to the feline lair.

But very soon, as the old cat returned from a second expedition, with a similar mouthful, which was as carefully placed in the box, the owner felt curiosity, and examined the results of the hunt. Both mouthfuls of gray fur proved to be young gray squirrels. They are thriving well, for they share the "full dinner pail," family rations, with the kittens, and the mother appears to think as much of them as of her own.

ACTRESS TO WED JAP HERO

Capt. Mariya, of Mikado's Army, Wins Fair American Girl for a Wife.

New York.—Miss Carolyn Gordon, of this city, is engaged to be married to Capt. Sarata Mariya, a cavalry officer in the Japanese army.

Miss Gordon did not yield immediately to the blandishments of the dashing young cavalry officer. She met him two years ago before the outbreak of the war while she was in Paris studying vocal music. Mariya fell in love at once and proved to be an ardent wooer. They will be married in December.

Capt. Mariya is a graduate of Oxford university and his family is one of great wealth and high standing. He owns a large tea plantation. Miss Gordon has been upon the stage for about four years. She will retire from the stage after her marriage and make her home in Japan.

No Wonder They Are Haughty.

The life insurance investigation reveals the interesting fact that clerks, messengers and office boys, some of whom make as much as $16 or $15 a week, often sign notes for millions. Under such circumstances the haughty airs of the office boy are readily explained.

ELOPED AND WED A DWARF

Girl of Good Family Afterward Became Blind and a Pauper—Death Follows.

Freeland, Pa.—She who was known and always referred to as "the blind woman," and who for ten years lived in a cabin near here with her dwarfed husband, "Little Willie Hart," is dead. The latter was a laborer on her father's (John Kenyon) farm near Cortland nearly 30 years ago. There were promising suitors for the daughter's hand, but she eloped with the dwarf. The family searched for her for years and finally gave up, believing her dead.

Hart was physically disabled, and eventually they became wanderers. Through illness Mrs. Hart lost her eyesight. Ten years ago they drifted into Freeland. The woman was led from door to door by her husband, who gave her at least devotion and constancy. They have been wards of public charity since.

A few days ago Dr. Neale, of this city, who occasionally treated the woman, impressed by his blind patient's gentle manner and evident culture, took interest in her and learned that her brother, too, was a physician. Inquiry by Dr. Neale located the brother, who is Dr. Kenyon, of San Francisco, president of the California Medical society.

All those years the brother had been in search of his sister, and the communication of Dr. Neale quickly established her identity. But death came before the brother could reach her.

WANTS TO RETURN TO JAIL

Woman Asks Warden to Take Her Back to Prison Home to Complete Sentence.

Leavenworth, Kan.—In the mail to Warden Jewett came an odd request. A woman asked to be locked in the penitentiary to serve a sentence.

The woman who makes this request is Miss Rosa Northcott, of Crawford county. She was convicted of manslaughter in the fourth degree about eight months ago and sent to the state penitentiary for a term of one year.

There were extenuating circumstances connected with her case, and at the state penitentiary she was looked upon as victim of circumstances, which she was not able to overcome. She was also a good, obedient prisoner, and when she applied for a pardon her case was acted upon promptly.

The pardon board did not wish to grant the young lady a full pardon so soon, but unanimously agreed to give her freedom conditionally.

She was granted a parole and on May 26 last she left the prison happy and smiling. She went to the home of friends in Crawford county, who agreed to look after her interests and give her a good home.

After spending three months with friends she has decided that she likes the prison home better, and she will be allowed to come back. In her letter to the warden she says she is dissatisfied with her home in Crawford county and frankly confesses that the people with whom she is living are dissatisfied with her.

SHOES FOR RHEUMATIC DOG

Scotch Collie Has Measure Taken for Footgear—Suffer's Great Pain.

New York.—Quex, one of the Scotch collie dogs owned by Princess Montglyn, the wife of Capt. Jack Bonavita, the lion tamer, will wear real shoes as soon as the New York shoe manufacturer has completed the order for four shoes made to fit his feet. The dog is suffering from a form of rheumatism.

The dog was brought from France with four other collies several months ago. When Bonavita and the princess settled in Bath Beach a garden was set apart at Bath and Twenty-first avenues, adjoining the home. The dogs were permitted to stay in the garden at night. The dampness from the night fogs resulted in the attack of rheumatism.

Following the remedy applied to one of her dogs in Paris a year ago, Princess Montglyn ordered the shoes. They will be made of rubber. The dog is valued at several hundred dollars, and is the winner of prizes at several dog shows in Paris. He will be entered in dog shows here next winter if the cure is successful.

WILLS HIS BRAIN AND ARM

Gen. I. J. Wistar of Philadelphia Also Leaves Estate of $2,000,000 to Institution.

Philadelphia.—Gen. Isaac J. Wistar bequeathed his brain and right arm to the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology of the University of Pennsylvania, in his will, which was filed recently, and incidentally left a fortune of nearly $2,000,000 to that institution which he founded. The general's arm was shattered by a gunshot wound during the civil war, and was saved by an interesting operation, which he wished the students of the institute which he founded to examine.

Gen. Wistar also bequeathed to the institute weapons he used in the civil war, along with trophies, pictures and various pieces of furniture. After bequeathing an aggregate sum of $50,000 to his brother and four sisters, $3,000 to a niece and $4,000 to his housekeeper, Gen. Wistar leaves the residue of his estate to the Wistar Institute.

Added Blessings.

Blessed are the peacemakers. And they have a chance at that $40,000 Nobel prize, too.

Mrs. Nanna Barnes, of Le Droit Park and Mrs. Ethel Johnson will visit Baltimore, Md. next week.

Miss Estelle Kenney has been elected a teacher in the graded school of Manassas, Va. She left for her field of labor last week.

Misses Mary L. and E. C. Payton, daughters of Attorney Fountain Payton, left the city September 21st for Harts-horn College, Richmond, Va.

The Bethel Library has begun its regular sessions. It is likely that ex-president Jackson and Gregory will again cross swords in debate.

Mrs. Emma West has gone to Providence, R. I. to spend the month of October with her son. Mrs. West lost one of her sons by death about a month ago.

Mrs. Emma Isabell, who has been to Pittsburg to attend her sick son Julian, returned to the city last Thursday. Julian has improved.

Immense crowds of citizens of low and high degree are in attendance upon the sessions of the Police Trial Board. Will something drop?

Miss Camilla Boltz, of Mobile, Ala., who graduated last year from the business course at Howard University, is visiting the city as the guest of Miss Grace Campbell.

Among those who left Sunday for a tour through New England, were: Mrs. Emma West and Mr. J. E. Johnson. Their many friends wish them a pleasant trip.

Dr. Livingston, consul at Cape Hay-tien and his accomplished wife, who have been spending their vacation in this city, left for their Island home on Wednesday. They met a host of old and new friends while here.

Dr. Charles B. Purves arrived from Boston last week. The doctor has retired from practice but not altered his interest in the Medical Department of Howard University, where he delivers a course of lectures. He is stopping at the Duffield boarding house on Eleventh street, N. W.

Mrs. John H. Deveau and daughter Fannie of Savannah, Ga. are here the guests of Mr. J. H. Dehamotta, of 1526 L. street, N. W. Mrs. Deveau is a sister of Mr. Dehamotta and the wife of Col. John H. Deveau, of Savannah, who is well and most favorably known in this city. Miss Fannie Deveau is the only daughter of the family and has just finished her education at Fisk University last June.

Prof. J. W. Cromwell is seeking to be reinstated as editor of The Record. Dr. E. W. Lampton, the proprietor, will be a candidate for Bishop at the next General Conference of the A. M. E. Church. The Record is his personal organ in his campaign. The Doctor is consequently mighty particular about the editorials. He does not want his personal organ to raise a fine crop of enemies. Prof. Cromwell will have to turn over a new leaf if he is reinstated, on dit.

A fruit reception was given by Mrs. James H. Smallwood at 1609 4th street, Monday evening in honor of Mr. Geo. Tany and Mr. Frank Peterson. There was a distinguished company present and many personal friends of Mr. Smallwood. Fruits of all descriptions were served, after which vocal and instrumental music and dancing occupied the remainder of the evening. Mr. Smallwood was assisted by the most amiable wife and his daughter, Mrs. Anna Stewart.

On Monday, Oct. 9th, the Phil. Giants the strongest colored team on earth will cross bats with the Washington American League team at American League Park, as which occasion the American League Park should be tested to its fullest capacity, as the Phil. Giants have proven to be as strong as any independent base ball club in the country, having met and defeated several National League teams including the Boston, Brooklyn and stand at the head of all independent teams.

Miss Carrie De Lucy Quales of Congress Heights was married to Mr. William White of this city last Wednesday evening, September 27th at the residence of Mrs. Mackley, the sister of the bride. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Bancroft Harris. The best man was Mr. George Brown. Rev. Dr. Turnell performed the ceremony. The bride was beautifully gowned in white chiffon. The presents were numerous and costly. Among some of those present were:

Mrs. Young, Miss Mamie Dawning, Miss Lucinda Sharer, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. Walter Quales, Miss Quales, Mr. John S. Quander, who served the supper. It was a most brilliant affair. After the ceremony the bridal party left for their home in Congress Heights. They were at home last Sunday afternoon, at which time a host of friends called.

Last Monday evening, September 25th, a jolly party of young people led by Misses Mamie Simmons and Julia Collier rushed in on Miss Marion T. Scott's guest, Miss Alice C. Simmons, calling out, "Surprise! Surprise!" to the amazement of all. For a time Miss Simmons was unable to speak. When she leaves the city Sunday night to resume her studies at Fisk University, she will carry with her only pleasant memories of her visit, and the kind and generous hospitality of the people of Washington.

The surprising party were: Misses Mamie Simmons, Julia Collier, Essie Burrell, Clotile Houston, Gussie Savoy, Emma Richardson, Georgie Sheffey, Edith Hall, Minnie Hall, Eula Goodrich, Beadie Malvern, Josephine Cole, Mary Storum, Rosa Carter, Mamie Ambler, Cassie Ambler, Daisy Watson, Messrs. Chas. N. Barker, Arthur Storum, Daniel Monroe, Philip Coney, Alexander Wood, Oscar Cooper, Hamilton Jacobs, Clarence Wright, Harry Brown, Harold Norwood, Wm. E. Bailey, Johnson, Ulysses Houston, Dr. C. Tignor, Ira Cole, Henry Scott, John Wilkinson, W. I. Lee.

Mr. Edward Syphax presided at the piano.

A SURPRISE.

Mrs. Jennie Brown, of 2011 11th St., northwest, and Matron at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, was surprised by a number of her friends of the Bureau last Wednesday evening. She was presented with several handsome presents. The surprise was gotten up by Miss Georgie Brown, who deserves great credit for its success. Among those who attended were:

Mrs. Jennie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Miss Hali Brown, Mrs. Burgess, Miss Georgie Brown, Miss Bertha Brown, Mrs. Mattie Boston, Miss Sadi-die Brown, Miss Taulor, Miss Catherine Edwards, Mrs. Mary White, Mrs. Mary Seldon, Miss Ida Price, Mrs. Visona Neal, Mrs. Serena Carter, Mrs. Martha Cooper, Miss Elizabeth Cole, Miss Janie Cole, Messrs. A. F. Boston, W. A. M. Beth, B. F. Brown, R. H. Brown, Hilliard Berry, Lancaster, Norwood, and J. Seldon.

WEST END NOTES.

Mr. John W. Lee, of Potomac Union Lodge 892 G. W. O. of O. F., has been elected Grand Treasurer of District Grand Lodge No. 20.

The next session of District Grand Grand Lodge 20 and United Order of Odd Fellows will be held in West Washington, the first meeting ever held in that section and ex-Grand Director Jas. L. Turner is to be congratulated.

The improvements on the Mt. Zion M. E. Church are being rapidly completed by the contractor for November next. The First Baptist Church on Dunbarton avenue, of which Rev. James Hill is pastor, is now being remodeled; additional ground has been purchased to the extent of twenty feet in the rear and is to contain all of the modern improvements with a large pool attached and pipe organ. It is to cost about $1500 dollars and is expected to be completed about December next. Services are now being conducted at Odd Fellows Hall, 28th and Dunbarton avenue, N. W.

SOCIAL CHAT.

We are pleased to hear of the improvement in the health of Miss Carrie Lee.

The fight waged against Mrs. Cooper, of the M. street high school, is the most unjust occurrence of recent years.

Someone had better look out or they will fall in their own trap. Everybody in the West End seems to have something up their sleeve. What does it mean?

O yes, I know they are getting ready for the coming election in the Young Men's Protective League.

The question—"Why are they appointing so many colored girls in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing?" was recently asked. Consult the records of the Civil Service Commission and you will find where the merit is.

Rumor has it that if a certain young man in the West End does not mend his ways his name will be called and loudly too. He can read between the lines.

There are to be several managers in the West End this Fall, watch and wait; don't name the date.

David Martin received many congratulations as well as best wishes from his many friends of the G. P. O. this morning. While on leave he was married to Miss O. Wilson. His friends of the G. P. O. presented him with a handsome mahogany Morris chair and a toilet set. He and his wife are located at 530 Spruce street.

Dr. William Wren and wife of Columbus, Ohio are, in the city the guests of Mr. Stokes of F street, N. W. Dr. and Mrs. Wren have been visiting in the east on a pleasure trip. They left for their home last Thursday.

There was a most delightful company at the Whist Circle last Tuesday. The crowd was the largest that has ever assembled. Miss Mirta B. Simmons has decided to organize the circle next week by the election of an executive committee of nine. There will be special attractions next Tuesday evening.

REFORMERS STAR MUSICAL.

Thursday evening, October 12th, at the Cosmopolitan Baptist Church, 708 O street, northwest, Mrs. Arabella V. Chase will give a Performer's Star Musical.

Mrs. Chase will present the following artists:

Mrs. Lizzie Johnson King, Mrs. Elnora

Taylor, Miss Bertha Crosby, Mr. Thos. Miller and, Miss Beatriz L. Chase, who is one of the finest pianists of the present age; Mr. Calvin Chase, Jr., and Mr. Raymond H. Murray, of Alexandria, Va., Cornetists.

Without exception Miss Beatriz Lucinda Chase is the finest and most accomplished pianist in the city. The best musical critics claim that she has the finest and most delicate touch of any pianist they have ever seen in this city and equal to any elsewhere. Her selections are classic and from the best authors. At the age of 14 she entertained for two hours and three quarters, one of the most classic musical audiences in this city. Miss Chase is also the teacher of her son, W. Calvin Chase, Jr. on the corbet. The musical will begin at eight-thirty. The price of admission is twenty-five cents. School children ten cents. Children under twelve years of age and accompanied by their parents will be admitted free.

Rev. P. W. Drew, D.D., is pastor.

Supt. W. S. Montgomery, of the Washington public schools, was the principal speaker at the Lyceum of the Second Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon. His theme was: "Some thoughts on educational topics."

On account of the Professor's conversation with such subjects, it was expected that his address would be more than ordinarily interesting, but his thorough and exhaustive treatment of the subject in all its practical applications of life, showed that he had given it more than cursory consideration.

He laid special stress on the heart education, as compared with that of the Other persons who afterward discussed the subject were, Prof. T. M. Dent, of Howard University, Dr. E. H. Allen, Mr. H. A. Matthews and Prof. Jesse Lawton.

"Civic Obligation and the Law," is the theme of an address to be delivered next Sunday afternoon at the Lyceum of the Second Baptist Church by lawyer L. Melendez King. Interest at the sessions of the Lyceum continues to grow and a good audience is expected. The public are invited.

LADIES' AUXILIARY.

At a meeting of the Crispus Attucks Relief Association, held on Monday night at Odd Fellows Hall, an invitation was received from the Ladies' Crispus Attucks Relief Association to attend their annual sermon to be preached at Shiloh Baptist Church, Sunday evening October 29, by the pastor, Rev. J. Anderson Taylor.

On motion it was agreed that the association attends in a body as an escort to the Ladies' Crispus Attucks Association. The meeting will be held at 7 o'clock p. m. All members of the association are requested to be present. The Ladies' Crispus Attucks Association has a membership of about 300 and is one of the best associations in this city. They also act as an auxiliary to the Crispus Attucks Relief Association at their entertainment and have rendered commendable services.

Young Shaw Works as Waiter.

William P. Shaw, son of the secretary of the United States treasury, is in Seattle from Alaska, where he spent the summer working in a salmon cannery. The young man was sent north by his family with the idea that it would do him good to hustle a little for himself. He worked his way to Alaska by acting as a waiter on a boat.

PROTEST HITS ROOSEVELT

Pittsburg Woman Decides to Write Letter to President's Wife on Race Suicide.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Pittsburg philanthropic women take exception to President Roosevelt's race suicide theory. Mrs. S. E. Lippincott, superintendent and secretary of the Society for the Improvement of the Poor, after consultation with other members of the society, has decided to write to Mrs. Roosevelt asking her to persuade the president to modify his position.

This determination became crystallized when a woman who had been deserted by her husband and is penniless, applied for aid. She is the mother of 17 children, seven of whom are dead "and happy." Another is in the institution for the feeble minded, at Polk, Pa. Although reduced to extreme poverty by the desertion of her husband, the woman wants to apply to the president for a medal as an example of his ideal wife and mother.

Mrs. Lippincott said: "What with the wretchedness and distress of these big families raised by the shiftless poor, the equally large families brought by immigrants to this country, and the menace they are to our nation and to society, I purpose writing to Mrs. Roosevelt an appeal to her womanhood against this indiscriminate applauding of unwelcome conditions."

CURIOUS LEGAL POINT.

Shall Cremated Corpses Pay Same Rate for Carriage as Body in Coffin?

Paris.—A curious case now before a French tribunal involves a point which has not yet come up for legal settlement. A certain New York doctor, whose name thus far is withheld, recently accompanied a wealthy western American to Italy, where his patient after a lingering illness died.

In order to avoid the trouble and formalities of carrying the body to the United States in a coffin the doctor on his own authority had the corpse cremated. The ashes were placed in a small urn, which was then packed carefully and shipped as ordinary freight on which he paid the usual tariff according to weight.

The doctor landed on the American side all right, but the steamship company discovered his secret and demanded the price of carrying a dead body in a coffin, which amounts to nearly $150 more than the doctor paid for the urn's transportation. This he refused and the case must be decided at Paris, since it was at a French port that the urn was shipped. The impression here is that the company will lose the case.

TO DUPLICATE EVERY GUN.

Precaution That Is Deemed Necessary by the Naval General Board.

Washington.—Every gun in the navy will have its duplicate to guard against any emergency and accident, if the recommendation of the naval chief of ordnance is carried out.

The naval general board, it is believed, thoroughly approves of it, and consequently the naval estimates to go before the next congress may contain a formidable item to cover the cost of producing the new guns.

Such accidents as have happened in recent years, particularly to the big turret guns of the battleships, would compel the ship to go into action in disabled condition or be laid up for months in a navy yard. The idea is to keep spare guns in stock at convenient points to immediately replace the damaged ones.

Growth of Things Out West.

A correspondent of the Checotah (I. T.) Times, and for whose veracity that paper vouches, tells the following: "The terrible news comes from the western part of the Cherokee Nation that a boy climbed a cornstalk to see how the corn was getting along, and now the corn is growing up faster than the boy can climb down. The boy is clear out of sight. Three men have undertaken to cut the stalk down with axes and save the boy from starvation, but it grows so fast that they can't hack twice in the same place. The boy is living on nothing but raw corn and already has thrown down over four bushels of cobs."

Decorated Chef.

King Edward's chef, M. Menager, was among those to receive birthday honor on the occasion of his majesty's recent birthday. He is believed to be among the most accomplished chefs in the world. He was decorated with the Victorian medal. Other recipients of that distinction are understood to feel that in conferring the medal on a cook King Edward has rather cheapened the honor.

HIDDEN ISLES OF THE SEA.
Many a noble ship, richly laden with the proudest spoils of human industry and enterprise, and freighted with that which is dearer still—human life—has passed away in the morning sunlight glittering on the snowy canvas, passed away, never to arrive at its destination; passed away, forever from the ken and knowledge of men as completely as if it had never been in existence.

What has become of those vanished argosies? Whither have they gone? When the seas give up their old ocean lays bare its sechuman skeletons, the virgin gold, the priceless gems, the costly jewels, and the wrecks of those vanished ships will be found strewn amid the tremendous passes and deep defiles of those submerged mountain ranges which are the backbones of lost continents, upon those topmost peaks, projecting near the surface of the seas, these lost convoys have been dashed to destruction! The mariner's compass and the navigator's chart have not been able to protect commerce from the wreck and ruin of these submerged ridges, but the good ship "Columbia," richly laden with its precious cargo of "Columbia Club," the purest and best whisky in the world, launched and navigated by William J. Donovan from the famous Baseball House, located at 1528 Seventh street, N. W., with the Stars and Stripes glittering from its gaff and defiance to all competitors thundering from its steel-clad turrets, has weathered every gale and returned safely from every voyage, because Mr. Donovan knows the highways of successful business enterprise are strewn with the derelicts of pretension and misrepresentation, and that quality alone, and quality strictly and strenuously adhered to, is the only chart and surest recommendation of those who wish to indulge in the delicious, stimulating, health-giving virtue of a truly honest American whisky—the "Columbia Club."

Tours World in Auto.

A special cablegram announces the arrival of Charles J. Glidden, the Boston millionaire, in Paris from Java, completing an automobile tour of the world. He covered 25,000 miles by auto in 210 days, passing through 24 countries and 8,000 cities, towns and villages. Besides he traveled 24,637 miles by water, which alone took 78 days. He carried the American flag to Upper Torneo, in the Arctic circle, in Sweden, and to Bluff, New Zealand. Mr. Glidden was accompanied by his wife and a machinist. He plans a tour of Africa this fall.

Rich Girl Wife of an Indian.

It has developed that Miss Edna Theresa Kenton, the daughter of a rich Philadelphia manufacturer, has been the wife of A. H. Nash, a Winnebago Indian, for nearly two weeks. Nash graduated from Carlisle in 1897 and studied at Andover and the University of Pennsylvania.

MAKE FIGHT ON LAZY WORM

Porto Ricans Are Enthusiastic Over Medical Success—Experiment a Good One.

Washington.—That the people of Porto Rico have become thoroughly awakened and enthusiastic in their desire and endeavor to rid themselves of the scourge of anemia, popularly designated the "lazy worm" affliction, is indicated in a report just received by the surgeon general of the army from Capt. B. K. Ashford, who is expending $15,000 this year in a campaign against that malady.

During the months of June, July and August nearly 10,000 patients had been treated, with cures in nearly every instance. In August at the medical station in Alibonito exactly one-third of the population was treated. This number was 2,482, of whom only six died, 716 were discharged as fully cured, while the majority of the remainder are on the road to recovery.

The effect of the disease is to render the victim absolutely unfit for work. The disease gradually wastes away the tissues, during which time the afflicted becomes a public charge on the community. The natives believe this wasting away was from lack of food and ridiculed the idea that a cure could be effected through the use of medicine. Besides administering a cure, the medical corps under Dr. Ashford has been conducting a campaign of education in regard to sanitation. This is later to be followed with a law on the subject from which great good is expected.

CALLS HIS WIFE A WITCH.

Russian, Believing Neighbor's Stories, Refuses to Live with Helpmeet—Woman Pleads Innocence.

Freeland, Pa.—Andrew Fetichik, a Russian living at Drifton, brought his wife to the office of Dr. J. B. Houston here and asked the physician to examine her, claiming she is bewitched. He said his neighbors for months had been tormenting him about her, but until lately he did not believe them. Now he joined with them in believing that she was "possessed," and unless the doctor could do something he would no longer live with her.

Dr. Houston, however, made the requested examination.

Fetichik could not be persuaded to believe that his neighbors were wrong, as well as himself, and declared that he no longer recognized the woman as his wife, and would not live with her.

The neighbors have accused her of an evil power, and threatened to kill her. The poor woman says her neighbors have influenced the husband against her, and denies being the author of the alleged ill of which she is accused.

RARE CONTINENTAL BILLS.

Washington Newspaper Writer Owns Collection Dating Back to 1785—Received from New England.

Washington.—Col. Ezra Nat. Hill, a newspaper writer of this city, has come into possession of some rare and valuable pieces of continental money which he has been exhibiting to his acquaintances. One of the notes was issued by the city of Albany, N. Y., March 26, 1791, and the legend "Three Pence" is printed across its face in old style type.

Another note of similar value was issued by the city of Philadelphia in 1797, while a quaint bill on age-yellowed paper was issued by the state of Massachusetts Bay in 1785, and calls for "one Spanish milled dollar." Another note, issued by the same state, calls for "two Spanish milled dollars," and still another demands seven of the dollars of the dons.

Col. Hill says this queer and interesting continental money was sent to him by a friend in New England.

GIVES FORTUNE; WEDS AT 80

Octogenarian Provides Homes for Children, Then Proposes to Widow Who Accepts.

Allentown.—Squire George Applegate, said to be the wealthiest man in Bethlehem, 80 years old, came to the Allentown courthouse and obtained a license to marry Mrs. Augusta Wahl, 60 years old, of the same place.

When he received the license he remarked that he had not Mrs. Wahl's full consent to the wedding, but he guessed when he showed her the license she would realize he had not proposed in fun, but meant business.

Squire Applegate, when he pocketed his license, remarked further that he had already given each of his five children $30,000. In view of this he thought they ought not to object to his proposed marriage.

He drew from his pocket a huge package of deeds. On his wedding day, he said, he would give each of his children a deed for another house, and added: "And I'll have plenty for myself and wife."

NEW USE FOR VESUVIUS.

Dynamite Gunboat Has Been Reddited and Is Now a Torpedo Training Ship.

Boston.—The United States ship
Vesuvius, once the only dynamite ship in any navy, which in the Spanish war frightened many Spanish soldiers and sailors at Santiago, will go into commission again in a few days at the Charlestown navy yard.

She is a dynamite cruiser no longer,
her new designation being a torpedo training ship. She will be stationed at the torpedo station at Newport.
About $200,000 has been expended at the local yard in refitting the ship for her new work. About all that remains of the old fittings are her hull and engines, and these have been thoroughly overhauled and are entirely new in many parts. The work of rebuilding and refitting has been in progress about a year.

The ship, a "white elephant" of the navy, will at last be of some practical service, it is now said. She has been tied up at the Charlestown navy yard since her return from the campaign in Cuba. The navy department has been considering what could be done with the craft to make her of some service, and probably a hundred plans for converting her were considered before the torpedo instruction ship idea was decided upon.

GOLD BRICK FOR DRUMMER

Promised Pretty Girl for Wife, Older
Sister Substituted—Traveler
Defaulted.

Olivet, S. D.—Coerced into working in the harvest field and finally offered a wife as a reward for his doing more work than any of the other hands, James Stacey has upset a remarkable romance.

Stacey is a traveling man, who was trying to get the farmers of South Dakota to appreciate the merits of a self-closing gate. While going around the country in harvest time, being a husky individual, he received a good many offers of work. The gate proposition wasn't a paying one, but Stacey decided to stick to it.

Just about the time grain was turning to a rich yellow in the wheat country west of here Stacey stopped at the big farm of George Blodgin.

Blodgin no sooner saw him than he offered him liberal wages to help harvest his big crop of small grain, in addition to his eldest daughter in marriage and a farm if he proved the best harvester.

At that moment a neat, pretty girl came out on the porch. Stacey looked her over carefully.

"I'll stay," said Stacey.

Stacey did stay and went to work like a thrashing machine, outdoing all the other men, and when the work was done the farmer told Stacey he had won the girl.

"She's not him just now," said the farmer, "but'll be back soon."

"Here they come," shouted the farmer, directly, and Stacey, looking toward the trail, saw a buggy coming toward the farmhouse. There were two figures in the buggy, one of them being the girl of his acquaintance.

"I've won," said Stacey, as he helped her to alight, and started to walk off with her.

"Here," shouted the farmer, "that's not the girl. She is already engaged.
She is the youngest daughter. This is my eldest," and he pointed at the young woman in the buggy.

Stacey took one look at her face and then wiped his forehead.

"I default," he said, wearily.

YIELD OF GOLD IS GREATER

Increase in Output of United States Amounts to $7,131,500, with California Leading.

Washington, D. C.—Director Roberts, of the mint, in his estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States for 1904, declared the increased production over the calendar year 1903 of $7,131,500 gold and 3,486,000 fine ounces of silver.

The largest gold gain was by California, which yielded about $3,000,000 more than in 1903, and a larger amount than in any year since the '60s.

"This gain," the director says
"came chiefly from dredge operations and a further gain is expected during the current year and for some years to come. The California state mining bureau estimates the possible output of the dredges at $7,000,000 a year for 50 years.

"Colorado shows an increase of nearly $2,000,000 gold and 1,300,000 ounces of silver; Alaska a gain of $700,000 gold; Montana a gain of 2,000,000 ounces of silver; Utah a gain of 1,300, 000 ounces of silver; Idaho a gain of 1,300,000 ounces of silver."

The amount of gold mined was 8,904, 998 ounces, and the commercial value of the silver produced was $35,518, 938, making the total value of the two metals $114,239,138.

TOOK KEELEY CURE MUCH

Man Escapes from That Institution, Who Had Been Treated Nineteen Times.

New Haven, Conn.—The police of this city arrested a man who gave his name as Charles B. Fleming for being under the influence of drink. He said that his home was in New York.

Two men who said they were doctors from the Keeley Institute at West Haven, called at police headquarters and asked Sergeant Cook to release Fleming, and they would see that he was cared for all right. They said they would take him to his home in New York. The sergeant turned Fleming over to the strangers.

Later a man, who said he was a private physician, called at police headquarters and asked for Fleming.
The man who was with him, he said,
was Fleming's valet. The doctor said that Fleming was a very wealthy New Yorker, and that he had been 19 times in Keeley institutes part of the time in Europe. He was very much chagrined to find that Fleming had been released.

Upon inquiry at the Keeley Institute in West Haven he learned that the two men who had called for Fleming were only keepers in the place, and not doctors.

Washington Rich at 27.

Recent examination of the records of Fairfax county, Virginia, show that George Washington owned 50,000 acres of land when 27 years old, and at the fall slaughtering in 1780 the Washington family killed 150 hogs for their use. The examination also brought out the fact that in 1787 the father of his country sowed 580 acres in wheat, 400 acres in oats, 700 acres in grass and 700 acres in other grains.
He owned 140 horses, 112 cows, 504 sheep, and had 250 negroes on the plantation.

BIGGEST CREAMERY.

BUTTER PROCESS IN WORLD'S LARGEST PLANT.

Averages 55,000 Pounds of Butter a Day—Twenty Thousand Farmers
Send Cream—Cream Alone
Worth $250,000 a Month.

Topeka, Kan.—In what is reputed the world's largest creamery, enough butter is made daily to provide a pat of it for 5,000,000 people. Fifty-five thousand pounds is the average daily output of the Continental creamery here. This quantity, in one-pound rolls laid end to end, would make a string five miles long. In one 24-hour run the concern turned out 32,000 pounds.

Five years ago the Continental was built and put into operation on an entirely new plan. Instead of receiving the whole milk it gets only the cream.
The farmer patron has a hand separator. As soon as the milk is drawn from the cows it is run through this machine.

The skim milk is fed at once to pigs and calves, warm and sweet, worth almost as much for feed as before the cream was removed.
The cream is gathered by the representatives of the creamery, and hauled or shipped to the factory.

Under the old system, the farmer's wife drudged at the entire process of butter making. Now the men do the milking and separating—the factory does the rest.

The farmer used to market his butter at the country store at low prices for groceries and calves at a high price. Now the cream is made into a high-class article worth twice as much in the market as country butter, and brings the farmer nearly twice as much money as he used to get from his cows.

The Continental creamery plan is very popular among farmers. It has pushed out along all railroads, even to the western border of the state.
Some cream is hauled 400 miles. The company has its own refrigerator cars for handling cream and butter.

THE THREE THOUSAND DOLLAR RALLY

A great and monster rally opened at the Cosmopolitan Baptist Church, 708 O. street, northwest, Rev. Simon P. W. Drew, D.D., pastor, last Sunday morning and it will continue until Sunday, October 22.

On this occasion some of the most noted and distinguished educators and preachers will take part, including the Rev. John Gordon, D.D., president of Howard University, ex-Senator Samuel G. Newsome, B.D., editor of the New River Herald, of Weldon, N. C.

The rally was opened with the largest congregations that was ever witnessed in Washington. Fully 100 people were turned away for lack of standing room.

What a beautiful emblem of the pious man, like the palm tree! It is the blessed word of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, the righteous shall flourish as a palm tree.

During his remarks he referred to the religious fever of the colored Christians and how they had increased from 4,500,000 in 1865 to 10,000,000 at the present time, John D. Rockefeller, the richest man on earth, owes his wealth to having put God to the front and giving to religious institutions. He is the greatest religious philanthropist on earth.

Among those who will take part in the rally are the following:
Rev. Drew will preach at 11 a. m., subject—"Mystery of Godliness;" at 3 p. m. Rev. W. A. Lindsay, Ph.D., pastor

REV. JOHN GORDAN.

The people were standing on the steps and out in the streets trying to get a glimpse or hear the great evangelist, Rev. Simon P. W. Drew, who recently returned from his vacation. Nearly 100 persons asked for prayer and a great number came forward and joined the church. One man was converted. Rev. Drew preached from the Psalm 92, chapter 12. Subject: The Righteous Shall Flourish like a Palm Tree. The sermon was as follows:

The people of God is liken to a palm tree. The palm tree is one of the most useful trees in Palestine. It is forty to one hundred feet high and bears the rich fruit of dates in large clusters hanging down from the top. A cluster will often weigh two hundred pounds. The palm is thirty years in arriving at maturity and will bear for seventy years afterwards. It requires little attention, except to be well watered every four or five days.

THE HAYSON MEMORIAL

An audience that overflowed Lincoln Memorial Temple assembled on Sunday night last to do honor to the late Walter B. Hayson, for some time a teacher in the M street high school. The memorial services arranged under the auspices of the church consisted of a number of anthems and solos by the choir under the direction of Dr. Walter Franklin and four short addresses by prominent associates of Mr. Hayson. The choir assisted by other musical talent, rendered such a classic program as their late director would probably have arranged himself. One could almost imagine the departed one still at the head.

The four addresses, all breathing warm and eloquent tribute to the deceased, were delivered by Rev. Sterling N. Brown, pastor of the church; Mrs. Mary Church Terrill, Doctor W. S. Montgomery, and Prof. John W. Cromwell. The high school faculty attended in a body. Among other noted persons present was Superintendent Stuart of the public schools.

Every household in the city should use the Purity Ice. It is made from pure spring water. You get a larger quantity for your money than elsewhere, it is delivered at your door by the wagons. All clubs, cafes, bars and hotels get a special rate on the Purity Ice. It is a home industry and it is hard for other companies to compete with it. The manager of the Purity Ice Co. is one of the best friends the laboring man has. He numbers his friends among all church denominations. Buy your ice from the Purity Ice Company.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO TERMINAL AT TWENTY-THIRD STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

All passenger trains of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to and from New York City now have direct ferry connection with 23rd Street Terminal, in addition to Liberty Street; the South Ferry Terminal having been discontinued.

Twenty-third Street is the most popular terminal of the great metropolis because of its convenience to the hotel, theatre and shopping district. In the recent remodeling of the terminal building a glass roofed canopy was constructed fifty feet wide, under which the cross-town cars of the 14th, 23rd, 28th and 29th Street lines pass, so that passengers are protected from the weather leaving the ferry house, and also avoid the annoyance of street traffic.

All baggage destined to New York City will be delivered to 23rd Street unless distinctly marked "Liberty Street," or otherwise.

A complete electric cab service has also been established for the transportation of passengers and baggage at very reasonable rates.

The importance of 23rd Street is most graphically brought to attention in the August number of the Book of the Royal Blue published by the passenger department of the Baltimore & Ohio, under the title "Into the Heart of Gotham." The interest centers within a mile radius of 23rd street, Fifth avenue and Broadway. Full page photographs of unusual detail present a most vivid picture of this most interesting locality. Send 5 cents for copy to D. B. Martin, Manager, Passenger Traffic, B. & O. R. R., Baltimore, Md.

ONLY $2.50 TO LURAY CAVERNS AND RETURN.

(Including admission to Caves), SUNDAY, OCTOBER 8.

Tickets will be sold for Special Train leaving Washington at 8.05 A. M. Returning special train will leave Luray 6.00 P. M. same day, Sunday, October 8, 1905.

For further particulars call on Ticket Agents, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

Curly Hair Made Straight By

REPAIR AND AFTER TREATMENT.
FORD'S ORIGINAL OZONIZED OX MARROW (Copyrighted)

This wonderful hair product is the only safe preparation in the world that makes curly or kinky hair straight as shown above. It nourishes the scalp, prevents the hair from falling out or breaking off, cures dandruff and makes the hair grow long and silky. Sold everywhere. Be sure you get the genuine. It is put up only in fifty cent size, made only in Chicago and by us. The genuine has the signature "Charles Ford, Prop." on each package. Do not be misled by substitutes that claim to be just as good—but always insist upon getting FORD'S as it never fails to keep the hair straight, soft and beautiful. It is the best hair dressing ever known so much desired. A bottle necessarily for ladies, gentlemen and children. Pleasantly perfumed. Owing to its superior and lasting qualities it is the best and most economical. It is not possible for anybody to produce a preparation equal to it. Full directions with every bottle. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists and dealers or send us 50 cents for one bottle, postage of $1.00 for three bottles, express paid. We pay all postage and express charges. Send postal or express money order. Please mention name of this paper when ordering. Write your name and address plainly to:
